CLIMAX

SIMPLY STARTLING.

LADIES-We respectfully submit to you that where there is something unusual, or beyond the ordinary course of events, it is considered "startling," or unnatural-beyond our comprehension-and therefore we eagerly inquire. It is undoubtedly within your scope of rational inquiry whether those gift offerings (for such they are) made known through the press this week by SANDS BROS., are of the bewildering import which the Figures and Facts quoted in their advertisement would naturally imply. The authority of the firm name is sufficient guarantee for any statement, however serious, important, or responsible in its nature. But you will say "that it seems almost incredible that the very highest class Dry Goods merchandise, such as Sands Bros. always carry, could possibly be retailed at the absurdly low prices quoted by them this week."

Ladies, your premises are good and your logic would be beyond the scope of controversy, did SANDS BROS. not have to contend -not compete, for they have no competitors in Helena-with the possibility of the ranting, roaring, pompous and ludicrously absurd, and intrusive Dry Goods manrearing his audacious head high as Mount Helena, and proclaiming himself from out the depths of his omniverously capacious stomach "the only Jonah."

HORSEMEN AT OUTS.

Dave Gideon Sues Phil Dwyer for Libel.

New York, July 30 .- Philip J. Dwyer, the well known horseman, was served with papers in a $50,000 libel suit on the Saratoga Racing association to-day. The plaintiff is David Gideon, also a horse owner, who won the Metropolitan stakes and the Suburban with the now famous Ramapo. The alleged libel arose out of a dispute at Sheepshead Bay several weeks ago, which grew out of talk over the Suburban winner, Ramapo, who had then just run a dead heat with Banquet in one of the races at Sheepshead. Banquet is owned by Mike Dwyer, Phil's brother. Gideon and Phil Dwyer got into an argument over the dead heat, and in the exchange of rather uncomplimentary reexchange of rather uncomplimentary re-marks Mr. Gideon alleges that Phil Dwyer libeled him.
